

I Excel in Archery

*Doug Shoemaker, Grade 7
Brookville Middle School*

My dad bought me a bow when I was a little kid and since then I have been practicing. Shooting bows with my dad is a special time for us to spend together doing something we both enjoy. I practice shooting at targets in my backyard. The arrow flies off the bow and it is in a paradox that you can't see. It spirals even though it looks like it is going straight. I am planning to join the Archery Club when I am old enough.
