

I Excel in Science and Drawing

Helen Roark, Grade 8
Brookville Middle School

Helen remembers not being so good at drawing when she was younger. She really liked dragons and wanted to learn how to draw them. She asked her brother to teach her how to draw them and he did. Spyro was her inspiration for drawing dragons. The first dragons that she drew were modeled after Spyro. Then she started making small feature changes to the dragons and added animal characteristics to her drawings.